The road goes ever on and on, down from the door where it began...

Now far ahead the road has gone, and I must follow, if I can. ~ J.R.R. Tolkien

In that enchanting instance, Bilbo Baggins, an unsuspecting hobbit, embraced the call to adventure, setting in motion an extraordinary journey through the captivating landscapes of Middle-earth.
This decision not only alters Bilbo's fate but also invites readers into a realm filled with mythical creatures and unforeseen challenges.

This bookmark is a representation of a scene from Alice in a Wonderland by Lewis
Carroll: "Tea party"

I chose this scene for this characters, the March Hare and the Mad Hatter, they may well be my favourite characters from the book. They make me smile and are funny but they are also a little bit disturbing!

My drawing is based on the moment where Alice enters for the first time in Wonderland. In my drawing you can see Alice walking on a path with squares. Next to her there are mushrooms and the Mad Hatter's hat and cups of tea. Then there are the dodo, the singing flowers and playing cards. In the background we can see a castle in reference to the Queen of Hearts. There is also a purple mushroom where The Caterpillar is lying and smoking. In the sky we can see the Cheshire Cat's smile. Finally, there are signs everywhere to tell to Alice where she should go.

The Wings of Fire

1. The dragonet prophecy

In my drawing, you can see a dragon who is flying over the water and other dragons who are flying above him. The dragons seems to be searching for liberty and peace.

My drawing is based on the famous book "The Witches" by Roald Dahl. In the middle, you can see a mouse wearing a blue jacket stealing a purple magic potion. This mouse was actually a little boy, and the potion belongs to the "great-grand Witch", transforming humans into mice. The only way for him to become a little boy again is to drink this potion, or so he believes. I chose this scene because I greatly admire the tenacity of this little mouse boy, and I found the book truly amusing and touching. I hope to be as brave as this little boy.

In my picture, you can see Ottoline and Mr. Munroe during their first days at Alice B. Smith school for the Differently Gifted. They are trying aerial flower arranging which isn't everyone's cup of tea.

Ottoline's different gift is spook spotting.

My drawing is based on Professor Astro Cat's
Frontiers of Space by D.W.
My favorite moment is when
finished touring the known planets he took off towards the depths of space where there are still many mysteries to solve.
All it takes is scientists, curious and brave people to discover them and I would like to be part of it when I grow up!
